TRIBULATIONS OF COLOMBIA.

COUNTRY IS NOW UNDERNOTED RECOVET BUCFION.

Comey to Secretar and People and Officials to the forest and to the forest fores florover, Aug. 26. The political attractions a Colombia is more hopeful than it has being for many years. It is protestly that while President Reyes fives there will be little or ng disturbance in the country. He is, to all intents and purposes, Distutor. At the leginning of the year he convened a Nafeast. It provided for a fen year ferm of office for the President. It suppressent the office of Vice President and also an inch office of Vice President. It provided for a ten year term of office known as Designado, a post in the me of succession should vacancies occur in the higher posts. It enacted the fay to Alta Policia Nactoral, under which any one regarded as an energy of the country of . c. of President Reyes) may be sent to the renal settlement of Titumate in the Chilf of Darien. Newspapers which had been hitterly hostile to Seffor Reyes became atendately servite.

The Congress is an absolutely unconsidered quantity, although it is to meet next year. One of its probable acts is the complete suppression of the departments, or political divisions, and the country will return to the provincial system in vogue about sixty years ago. The republic will then consist of fifty or sixty provinces, each presided over by a prefect, with possibly a sort of Assembly of eight or ten members in each province. The purpose of this plan is the removal of the menace to the central Government which exists in a powerful opposition, which could conceivably be organized by a Governor of a large department.

While the country appears to be politically secure, the commercial situation, however, is far from encouraging. The last Assembly passed a tariff measure in which the classification of the tariff of 18% was re-established, while the rates of duty adopted classification of the tariff of 1886 was restablished, while the rates of duty adopted were those of the tariff of 1894 plus 70 per cent. Although the Constitution declares that any change in customs duties must take effect by degrees—the tenth part of the change becoming operative monthly—this was ignored and the full rate given immediate effect. This was a heavy blow to the commercial class, inasmuch as merchandise ordered and en route—for which calculations had been made on the old basis—was subject to the new and increased rate. This made the goods in many cases unsalable at a profit because of the impoverished condition of the people of the country.

Another heavy burden is laid on the merchants by the fact that the customs authorities at the port of entry draw on the consignees at interior points for the amount of the duties at three days sight immediately on receipt of the goods at the port cities. In this way the merchants of the large cities of the interior, the principal points of distribution, are forced to pay large sums at short notice, and many days before it is possible for the goods to reach them. Not infrequently the goods to reach them. Not infrequently the payment of duties anticipates the arrival of the goods by several weeks, and the draft for the duty often comes ahead of advices from commission agents that the goods have arrived in port.

The Government has also declared the commission agents that the goods have arrived in port.

The Government has also declared the liquor, tobacco and hide industries to be Government monopolies. This has resulted in the absolute paralysis of business on the coast, where those industries formed the chief occupations of the natives. All of the hundreds of distilleries of aguardiente were confiscated. A value was placed on them by alleged experts, said value being payable in bills on the treasury, without interest, at the expiration of one year. The same process was adopted in regard to existing stocks of all liquors unless their owners consented to pay the 70 per cent. Tax established by the monopoly. Many hundreds of people had their little capital invested in these distilleries, and the effect of the measure has been the confiscation of their savings—repayable no one knows when.

Under the workings of the hide monopoly the Government takes the hides of slaughtered cattle, instead of the former killing tax of $2 per head. In places like Magangue merchants used to settle many of their gue merchants used to settle many of their debts abroad by exporting hides or by drafts against hide shipments. This is now stopped. Consequently it is almost impossible to buy drafts in these important places, thus increasing the difficulty, already great, of doing business.

The law creating the tobacco monopoly requires all growers to sell their crops only to the Government or to the remadador of the monopoly. But the energetic protests of Europeans who have made large advances on the growing crops and their threats of of Europeans who have made large advances on the growing crops and their threats of claims against the country have compelled the Government to annul this measure, it is rumored that all of the monopolies, with the exception of aguardiente, will also

There are also rumors that the Government will reduce the new tariff rates. It has already been seen that the present high rates are a dangerous menace to the prosperity of the country. These rumors have served to increase the general commercial strength of the country as merchants are nave served to increase the general commer-cial stagnation, inasmuch as merchants are not disposed to bring in goods under present duties on the chance that they will be obliged to sell them in competition with later imports brought in under reduced rates.

It is, of course, clear that the Government needs money, for the country is bankrupt. But the impression prevails among the business men of Colombia that President Beyes and his Cabinet advisers do not consider their measures with proper care.

GRABBED SUBWAY SILVER.

Patron Said He Had It Coming to Him, but He Was Fined $1.

Sheperd G. Pearson of 117 West Twentyeighth street, was in the West Side court yesterday morning charged with disorderly conduct for taking 15 cents from the ticket booth at the Seventy-second street subway station on Friday night. The complainant was Benjamin Fischer of 1495 Madison avenue, a subway ticket agent at Seventy-second street.

According to Pearson's story he gave Fischer 25 cents for a ticket. Fischer gave him a ticket but no change. Pearson demanded the change and when Fisher refused to give it to him he reached into the booth and grabbed 15 cents. Then he deposited his ticket in the box and went to the train platform. Later, he said, he returned to ask the ticket chopper what ailed the ticket seller and was arrested. Fischer claimed that Pearson gave him only five claimed that Pearson gave him only five cents.

"Your Honor," said Pearson, "I took the 15 cents from principle, as I'd rather stay in jail over night than be robbed in such a barefaced manner. If I had wanted to I could have gone off on a train and no one would have known who I was."

"Well," replied Magistrate Cornell, "principle is a good thing, but you have no business to help yourself to other people's money. I fine you $1."

PERFECT WEATHER AT TUXEDO. Many Luncheons and Dinners at the Cottages and the Club.

TUXEDO PARK, Oct. 7 .- Perfect autumn weather favored the Tuxedo colonists throughout the entire week. Nearly every cottage is now taken, and every available room in the clubhouse is engaged for October. The week was one continuous round of gaiety, and many large luncheons and dinners, followed by bridge and house parties, were given by nearly every cottager. A special dinner, followed by a vaudeville performance, was given by the club on Friday evening, which was patronized by many of the members and their guests, and the week end tournament in mixed doubles at the tennis courts was largely attended by a fashionable gathering. There were also a number of matches at golf for the Tuxedo sweepstakes handicap, which is attracting an unusual amount of interest.
